

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT 2019

Membership

Membership renewal commenced in June and Gwen Levick, our super-efficient Membership Secretary, has been very busy over these past months. We undertook a membership drive, with some success, and some of you have helped distribute a flyer around your community. Within just one month we welcomed 46 new members and at the time of writing we have 1,048 members, an increase over last year's 962. The green membership card is a permanent, personalised card and therefore not changed when membership is renewed. For those who have joined recently please feel free to contact the Special Interest Groups' coordinators if you think you may wish to join any of the groups. Thank you, Gwen for your membership and database work.

Fees

This financial year's annual membership fee of $35 and $5 visitor fee for lectures remains unchanged. Visitor fees remain a significant source of income.

Finances

Details are available on our U3A website. Tony Thomson, our conscientious and hard-working treasurer provides the Committee with regular financial reports and has maintained our finances in a healthy state. For the 2019 financial year we posted a small surplus but we are facing a possible deficit for the current financial year. The committee are therefore proposing an increase in subscriptions, to $40 per annum, taking effect from July 2020. The fees for a guest visit remains at $5. Functions and events, like the mid-winter lunch, are all self-funding. The only exception is the volunteer November social function which U3A pays for.

Debbie Mickell, the independent reviewer, has completed her review of our annual accounts and states they present fairly the position of U3A Wellington as at June 2019. Since we are a registered charity Tony will send a report to Charities Services once the Financial Statements have been presented at the Annual General Meeting. Thank you, Tony.

Embassy

We continue to enjoy the facilities at the Embassy and are treated well by the Manager, Caleb Button, with whom we have an agreement for a further a one-year contract for 2020, at the same rate as this year's. We will negotiate a second year nearer the time.

We greatly appreciate the services of Darryl Burnand, the Embassy technician who sets up the sound and projection facilities for us. We also appreciate members Ian Goodwin, Alan Wright and Anthony Fletcher who ensure notices appear on the Embassy screen and set up our speakers' presentations. Ian, Alan, Anthony and Doug Helps are active with the two roving microphones during question time. Thank you for ensuring questions can be heard and navigating the stairs with agility.

Lecture Programme

Many members have been complimentary on the choice of presenters and topics over the past year. Thank you, Rae Julian, Robin Halliday and Doug Helps for a wonderful programme. We usually have a great turnout for lectures but the Embassy's large Grand Theatre can accommodate more. For the month of June attendance ranged from 152 to 265.

We plan to add two extra lectures at the start of the year and a further two at the end of the year. This extension is for a trial period which will be reviewed. Already, many lectures have been suggested for 2020 but there's room for more and we need your input and suggestions before we finalise the programme by the new year. Please contact Rae, Robin, Doug or any other committee member with your suggestions of topic and presenter.

To Roger Chapman, many thanks for continuing with the weekly email detailing the coming lectures. We value these weekly reminders.

Glynn Woodbury, Volunteer Coordinator, has done a great job organising the "front of house" volunteers. They do an important job in setting up the scanning equipment and welcoming members. The newsletter has a volunteer form and forms will be available at the AGM for members who wish to sign up for 2020. If you can help please fill out a Volunteer form and give/send to Glynn or one of the committee members. Glynn unfortunately can no longer continue in this role and if you could contribute to the successful running of U3A by taking up the role, with support from Glynn in the early stages, this would be much appreciated.

Visits and Events

We are kept informed of upcoming Holiday Events organised by enthusiastic and capable Aidan Kay. Aidan organised another very successful mid-winter lunch at the James Cook that continues to serve our requirements for this event. Tom Frewen was the guest speaker and drew on his experience in the news media, including his 22 years as a Parliamentary Reporter. His entertaining talk indicated concern for the future of 'real' information in this era of fake news. We celebrate our volunteers at our end-of-year social function.

Newsletter

Heather Nelson, our Newsletter Editor does a sterling job with the three excellent, informative newsletters each year that contain a wealth of essential and useful information. Heather ensures copy is sent in a timely fashion, has a keen eye to spot typos and inconsistencies with the result of reliable information and publication dates. Thank you, Heather.

Special Interest Groups

Margaret and Ian Garrett are retiring from the committee as Special Interest Groups Coordinators after 5 years' unstinting service. They have liaised with Group Leaders to ensure updated information is provided to our newsletters, kept our database updated and organised group presentations for the lecture programme. During their time the Play Reading group and the Writing group have ceased. This has been balanced by the start of two Walking groups, Book Group Four and the Philosophy. We have one nomination for the committee to replace Margaret and Ian. Thank you Margaret and Ian for the capable leadership of the interest groups.

Victoria University U3A Award

Paul Dunham won our $2000 award this year. The award will contribute to the costs of his Doctor of Philosophy in Music. Paul will be speaking at U3A later this year.

Website

Our website is undergoing a facelift and backroom improvements. The changes will help facilitate efficiency and time-saving with some of our important work, particularly that done by our Membership Secretary. Gwen has a high workload with subscription renewals and ensuring our database is accurate and up-to-date. Aidan Kay, Events Coordinator will find the upgrade also helpful in keeping track of large numbers of those attending his holiday events and outings.

Rodger Sparks relinquished the Web Administrator role earlier this year after 14 years of service. Rodger has had many roles in our organisation, including committee member, Front of House Manager, Website Administrator and is now enjoying being 'just one of the crowd'. Thank you, Rodger for your excellent work over such a lengthy period.

We are fortunate to have two new Website Administrators, Alison Dixie and George Sutton. Thank you both for so willingly taking on the job.

Survey

We will soon be inviting all members to give us feedback on U3A activities via a short survey. A link to the survey will be sent to those of you with email and also a hard copy will be available for those who don't use email.

Committee

Thank you to our wonderful committee members who have done a marvellous job in keeping U3A running so well. They put in many hours and are a fun group of people. We look forward to welcoming a new Special Interest Groups' Coordinator and a Volunteer Coordinator. The other members have agreed to remain on the committee for the coming year.

Secretary, Keri Logan, does a great job of minute writing and making sense of our committee meetings, along with other duties. Thank you Keri. Thanks also to Doug Helps who not only is a member of the Programme Coordinators team but is also Vice President.

Finally, thank you. U3A members who make U3A the vibrant and interesting organisation it is today.

Barbara Crump
President

U3A LECTURE PROGRAMME

17 September - 1 November 2019

Tuesday 17 September

Gentlemen art thieves and their art: Enduring myths and great art. Arthur Tompkins

Arthur Tompkins is a District Court Judge based in Wellington. He graduated Bachelor of Laws with First Class Honours from Canterbury University in 1983, and then Master of Laws from Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge University, in 1984. Each year Judge Tompkins teaches the 'Art in War' component course as part of the annual Graduate Certificate Program in Art Crime and Heritage Protection Studies, presented by the Association for Research into Crimes against Art in Amelia, Umbria, Italy. In 2016 he edited Art Crime and Its Prevention: A Handbook for Collectors and Art Professionals and in 2018 his Plundering Beauty: An illustrated history of art crime in war, was published. The suave and omni-competent gentleman art thief is an enduring character, in fiction and on screen, if not in real life. This illustrated talk will examine some of the origins of this character and, if he existed, what great stolen (and still missing) art might be in his (mythical) collection?

Friday 20 September

Whose child? Our outdated adoption laws Anne Else

Dr Anne Else is the author of A Question of Adoption: Closed Stranger Adoption in New Zealand, 1944-1974 (Bridget Williams Books, 1991), and many subsequent papers and articles on adoption and assisted reproduction technology. The Adoption Act 1955 was drawn up when attitudes to women, children, relationships and families were very different from today. This talk sums up the main problems with New Zealand's adoption legislation, and looks at what changes are urgently needed, and why.

Tuesday 24 September

The World lacks progressive leadership - could NZ provide some? Thomas Nash

Thomas Nash BA (Hons) is Social Entrepreneur at Massey University and Adjunct in Politics. He is the co-founder and Co-director of NZ Alternative, an independent organisation promoting a progressive role for Aotearoa NZ in the world. He led the global campaign to ban cluster bombs, co-founded and directed London-based disarmament group, Article 36, and served on the board of the Nobel Prizewinning International Campaign to Abolish Nuclear weapons. The rules-based international order set up after 1945 is creaking. Human societies have reorganised ourselves to survive and flourish in the past. To do that the world will need international cooperation, diplomatic ambition and transformation leadership. What could New Zealand do to help?

Friday 27 September

What comes after Jacinda? Colin James

Colin James was a political journalist for 45 years. He has written eight books and has one last one on the keyboard. What makes the nation Aotearoa/New Zealand? How will it evolve over the next 10 years? What have been the politics behind and reflecting that evolution? Where will those politics go over the next three years and 10 years as politicians wrestle with a changing society inside the nation and a turbulent world outside, both driven by rapidly evolving new technologies, environmental constraints and threats and ideological argument? In short, what can we expect from Jacinda Ardern and what comes after Jacinda?

28 September - 13 October Term 3 Holidays

Tuesday 15 October

Sound Sculptures

Paul Dunham

Paul is our current Wellington U3A mature student scholarship winner. He holds a Bachelor of Music (Composition) with first class honours. Paul is currently studying for a Phd in Music Composition and Sonic Arts. He has produced a number of works across different media. His work "Click" was a finalist in the 2017 Lilburn Trust NZSM Composers Composition. His current practice based research is focused on creating a series of sound sculptures that establish a narrative between the past and present through the convergence of absolute and current media technologies.

Friday 18 October

Flying High - the Photography of Lloyd Homer

Simon Nathan

Simon is a geologist and Science Writer. Much of his career has been with GNS Science and he has also been science editor for Te Ara. Simon has worked with Lloyd Homer for many years, and has recently published a book on his photographic career. Lloyd Homer is one of the leading photographers of New Zealand's natural environment. Working for the Geological Survey (now GNS Science) for over 35 years, he was at hand to record the impact of events such as earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and landslides. For this illustrated talk, Simon has chosen a selection of his favourite images from the book (some around Wellington).

Tuesday 22 October

Orchestra Wellington

Kirsten Mason

Kirsten has been the General Manager of Orchestra Wellington since early 2016 and is a Graduate of Victoria University and a proud Wellingtonian. Kirsten has had extensive experience overseas in a variety of rolls involving music before taking up her current position. Her talk today will give us a view inside a Symphony Orchestra-how they work and what they do; the whole business of running an orchestra. PLUS there will be a short live performance by a small number of Musicians.

Friday 25 October

History of our Health System

Dr Alastair McDonald

Alastair went to medical school in Edinburgh and graduated 1968. He has worked in the USA, UK, East Timor, Iraq, Abu Dhabi, and Vietnam. He is a retired kidney doctor and is currently a clinical ethics advisor. He will talk a little bit about the history of our health system and examine the inherent values which were part of the foundation of the system in 1938. He will look at the various challenges to ensuring the continuity of the system by examining the potential roles of systems thinking, anticipatory governance and artificial intelligence.

Tuesday 29 October

Bougainville Conflict 20 years on

Brig. Roger Mortlock

Brigadier Mortlock served in the New Zealand Army for 33 years, retiring in 1999. In the course of his service, he saw active service in South Vietnam (1970-71), was deployed to the United Nations Mission in Angola (1992-3) during their civil war, and led the Truce Monitoring Group on to Bougainville in 1998. On leaving the service he was employed variously as a consultant, and National Operations Manager for OSH (Occupational Health and Safety) within the Department of Labour, and as a university lecturer. In the latter role, he taught Command Studies ('The Art of Command') at Massey University, and The Royal Brunei and NZ Defence Force Command and Staff Colleges.

Friday 1 November (Final lecture for the year)

Scandalous Past times of the Parisian Belle Epoque

Dr Wendy Nolan Joyce

Wendy teaches French culture for Victoria University Continuing Education and leads culinary, art-themed tours to France. She will discuss the golden age (1870-1914) in France with its progress in the arts, science and industry as well as the revolutionary artists and how their work reflects the darker side of Paris at the time.
